

150 YEARS SINCE HIS BIRTH

Vladimir Ilyich Lenin knew Marx's ideas when he was fighting against the tsarist autocracy. He strictly adhered to these ideas and made them the guide for building the Party of the Proletariat and the organization of the social revolution in Russia. In this process he adapted them, in theory and practice, to the conditions of the existence of imperialism and he elaborated the strategic lines for the building of the new society, the society of the workers, the dictatorship of the proletariat. The first socialist revolution was carried out under the leadership of the Party of the working class, correctly led by Lenin, defeated the landlords and the bourgeoisie, liberated millions of workers and established the ideals of communism that guide the struggle of millions of workers and of proletarian revolutionaries on all continents.
